PureLogics

PureLogics released the hassle of transcription with Nabl.ai development

Meet our Client

Nabl.ai is a transcription tool that assists in converting calls into text, endeavoring the crux of calls, presenting audio file history, enabling chat options, etc.

Problem

The Nabl.ai team tangled with transcription issues and needed to develop a platform where users could quickly transcribe calls by uploading audio calls. They aimed to keep transcription records within Nabl.ai. Getting the crux of calls, including phrases, questions, issues, objections, closing remarks, and strategy analysis with a single click, was also a demand of the Nabl.ai team. The Nabl.ai crew was also keenly interested in enabling scheduling, recordings, and chatting functionalities within the Nabl.ai tool to facilitate users as much as they could.

The Solution

Nabl.ai leadership was knotted with dozens of issues of manual transcriptions. Their transcribers didn't do transcribing effectively and committed a lot of errors. That's why the Nabl.ai team wanted to develop a transcription platform where the transcription of audio files could happen with the assistance of Artificial Intelligence.

Ultimately, Nabl.ai collaborated with PureLogics by identifying our position in the tech sphere. Our engineers started working by doing in-depth research to convert the dream ideation of the transcription platform into reality.

We employed AI and ASR alongside NLP to develop Nabl.ai. Through this tech stack, we enabled the transcription of audio calls into text within seconds. The power of Artificial Intelligence and Natural Language Processing eradicated the single chance of committing errors in transcribing any audio calls.

Further, manually finding a gist in a call was also challenging, and AI proved the right hand for this purpose. Whenever a user uploaded an audio file of a call to Nabl.ai, the crux of the call was presented to the users immediately. It included everything discussed within a phone call, such as questions, objections, strategy, and closing remarks.

With the assistance of third-party APIs, we made Zoom calls possible for users. Twilio was the top choice as a CRM for Nabl.ai. With this selection, notifications and messages became functional.

A website is nothing without a user interface. Hence, interface designing to empower users using the functionalities of Nabl.ai was also a paramount task to accomplish. Our engineer utilized React.js for it, which worked wonderfully and made Nabl.ai accessible to all.

After deployment, we received significant recognition for the successful development of Nabl.ai. We are currently working on adding new functionalities to Nabl.ai and maintaining it.
